CLYDE&CO

Navegación exitosa del riesgo

Maritime Insights

April, 21, 2026

1. Traffic Evolution: Increase in Venezuelan Territory

During the month of April 2026, a notable increase in vessel traffic has been recorded compared to the months of February and March.

- Growth in Arrivals: The number of active vessels reported rose from an average of 98–100 units in the first quarter to a volume exceeding 115 vessels detected in the first half of April.

- Density at Boca Grande: This terminal has experienced an exceptional rebound, becoming the point with the highest concentration of bulk carriers and logistics service vessels this month.

2. Analysis by Vessel Type

Vessel Type	Identified Quantity	Percentage of Total Traffic (%)
Tankers (Crude/Product/ Chemical)	56	44.8%
Bulk Carriers	28	22.4%
Support Vessels (Tugs/Supply)	24	19.2%
Container Ships	17	13.6%
Grand Total	125	100%

3. Flag State Assessment (Projected Percentages)

Flag Country	Percentage (%)
	38%
	14%
	12%
 	7%
  	6%
Others    	23%

4. Distribution by Operator Nationality

Operate 29% of the fleet, mainly concentrated in the management of crude and product tankers.

Represents 18% of operators, with a strong presence in bulk carriers and large-scale tankers.

The Venezuelan state maintains management of 12% of the reported vessels (mainly support and strategic fleet).

Represent the remaining 26% of international technical management.

490
Partners

2,400
Lawyers

3,200
Legal professionals

5,500
Global workers

+60
Offices worldwide
www.clydeco.com

CLYDE&CO
Successful risk navigation

@ClydeCo
@Clydecovenezuela
www.clydeco.com
Clyde & Co

clyde@clydeco.com.ve