CLYDE&CO

Successful risk navigation

Regulatory Compliance and Environmental Law

Venezuela officially ratifies the MARPOL Annex VI

CLYDE&CO

Successful risk navigation

In continuation of its commitment to environmental protection and the preservation of marine ecosystems, the National Assembly ratified on October 6th, the Approving Law of the Convention for the Prevention of Pollution from Ships.

Last Tuesday, October 6th, 2026, the National Assembly sanctioned the Approving Law of the 1997 Protocol, containing Annex VI of the International Convention for the Prevention of Pollution from Ships, adopted within the framework of the International Maritime Organization.

Recalling that with this measure, Venezuela reaffirmed its commitment to environmental protection and the prevention of atmospheric pollution caused by emissions of sulfur and nitrogen oxides, as well as ozone-depleting substances.

CLYDE&CO

Successful risk navigation

Visit

www.clydeco.com

Caracas, Venezuela
Avenida Circulación del Sol,
Edificio Santa Paula Plaza I
Piso 4 Oficina 405
info@clyde.com.ve
+58 212-8167057